Organist: Mr. Michael Dudman
It is a rare privilege, Mr. Chancellor, to present to you a scholar of international repute whose fame as prophet and patriot stands on the same level as his eminence in the writing of the history of his native land.

Charles Manning Hope Clark was born in Sydney on the 3rd March, 1915. His father brought to Australia his awareness of the social and political crises of Edwardian England, his mother descended from a distinguished line of early gentlemen-settlers of New South Wales. After spending his early childhood in an Anglican rectory on Phillip Island in Western Port Bay with its chicory farms, mutton bird rookeries and tourist beaches he distinguished himself at Melbourne Grammar School both as a scholar and a cricketer. Following an outstanding career at Trinity College in the University of Melbourne he proceeded to Balliol, still the centre of imperial ideals and high scholarship in Oxford. Going to the west of England in 1938, he became a master at Blundell's School. He returned to Victoria to the other side of Melbourne to teach history at Geelong Grammar School under that eminent educational reformer Sir James Ralph Darling. Then Melbourne University called him back to its service in 1946 as a political scientist and historian. Finally, he moved in 1949 to the Chair of History in the Canberra University College — subsequently to become the School of General Studies in the Australian National University.

In his History of Australia he displays a Thucydidean insight into confrontations as the explanation of the historic process. This old Greek doctrine of κατάφεσις well expressed in the familiar hymn

Once to every man and nation
Comes the moment to decide,
In the strife of truth with falsehood,
For the good or evil side; . . .
And the choice goes by for ever
'Twixt that darkness and that light.

enlightens many of the best insights of a notable piece of historical and cultural exploration.

In 1976 we found that when confrontation emerged with the new government over his Boyer lectures, we had indeed among us a

Ιustum et tenacem propositi virum non civium ardor prava iubentium, non vultus instantis tyranni mente quatit solida neque Auster,

A man just and tenacious of his purpose whom neither the prejudice of misguided electors nor the lowering face of a Prime Minister shakes in his firm soul, nor yet the southerly buster.

However, in this non-alcoholic pre-morning tea session let us be content to agree with the poet Pindar in his first Olympian Ode "Αριστον μὲν ἔδωρ "Hunter water is very good". In admitting him to a place of honour in the fellowship of this University we are not re-baptising him with this water but, rather, he is offering us the prophetic baptism of the spirit. Though, as Pindar again observes at the end of the eleventh Nemean Ode, προμαθείας δ' ἀπόκειται ὁ ποιητής, "the waters of prophecy are hidden from us", let us salute a man to whom often they have opened their secrets.

Mr. Chancellor, I present to you Charles Manning Hope Clark, Companion of the Order of Australia, and Fellow of the Australian Academy of the Humanities for admission to the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Letters.
